

Dear Parents,

Below you will find a list of assignments for March 16 – March 31. During this time, I will be working during the hours of 8-2. If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to me through email or my phone (843) 598-9193.

The following will need to be assessed:

Tuesday (March 17) – Poem

Wednesday (March 18) – Studied Dictation

Tuesday (March 24) Poem

Wednesday (March 25) Studied Dictation

“Well,” said Hazel, “the idea is simply that in our situation we can’t afford to waste anything that might do us good. We’re .”in a strange place we don’t know much about and we need friends. No, elil can’t do us goo, obviously, but there are many creatures that aren’t elil – birds, mice, yonil and so on. Rabbits don’t usually have much to do with them, but their enemies are our enemies, for the most part. I think we ought to do all we can to make these creatures friendly. It might turn out to be well worth the trouble.”

You will do one written narration a day according to the schedule listed today. A written narration should take no more than 15 minutes. One book is a written narration and the other is an oral narration.

*Please Note – The stories have changed: (Rip van Winkle) will be the first book for the first week. Legend of Sleepy Hollow will be the book for the remainder of the time.
