

Dear Parents,

Below please find a copy of the High School Honors Lesson Plan. This plan will take us to May 1. There will be 2 Zoom classes per week. I will try to record them.

High School Studied Dictation will be given on Wednesday at 11:30 am.

Studied Dictation: (April 22 assessment date) Words 78 Grammar 21

Kehaar went on pecking at the broken pieces of stale bread. Blackberry, who had finished the fragments of lettuce he had found, was sitting up and looking over the very low side, watching a stone-colored, black spotted trout swim up into the fall. The “boat” was a miniature punt, used for reed-cutting—little more than a raft, with a single thwart amidships. Even when it was unmanned, as now, there were only a few inches of freeboard.

Studied Dictation (April 29 assessment date) Words 104 Grammar 23

Sunday was again, as usual, our sailing day, and we got under way with a stiff breeze, which reminded us that the latter part of the autumn, and time to expect southeasters once more. We beat up against a strong head wind, under reefed topsails, as far as San Juan where we came to anchor nearly three miles from the shore, with slip-ropes on our cables, in the old southeaster style of last winter. On the passage up, we had an old sea-captain on board, who had married and settled in California, and had not been on salt water for more than fifteen years.

Poem:

The first half of the poem is due April 21 with the second being due April 28:

Hear The Voice

HEAR the voice of the Bard,
Who present, past, and future, sees;
Whose ears have heard
The Holy Word
That walk'd among the ancient trees;

Calling the lapsed soul,
And weeping in the evening dew;
That might control
The starry pole,
And fallen, fallen light renew!

'O Earth, O Earth, return!
Arise from out the dewy grass!
Night is worn,
And the morn
Rises from the slumbrous mass.

'Turn away no more;
Why wilt thou turn away?
The starry floor,
The watery shore,
Is given thee till the break of day.'
